

Grove Online Advisory Board Report

UpdateGMO

Six years ago, in response to feedback from scholars, Grove Online launched UpdateGMO, a major program to ensure that Grove content remains authoritative and useful to researchers. The March 2016 update included 53 articles that were revised or newly commissioned through this program. Entries for the Southeastern and East Central Europe Update Project constituted the majority of these articles. Jim Samson, Professor Music at Royal Holloway, University of London, and Grove contributor, is now acting as Editor in Chief of the project. A partial list of revised articles in this update include Boulez, Pierre, Byzantine chant, Concert de la Loge Olympique, Concert Spirituel, Greene, Maurice, Grunenwald, Jean-Jacques, Kusser, Johann Sigismund, Nyman, Michael (Laurence), Paris, §IV, 2: 1723–89: Concert life, Sammartini, Giovanni Battista, and Sitsky, Larry [Lazarus].

Hundreds of articles have been updated through this program so far, but there is still much work to be done and Grove needs your help. If you would like to participate, please e-mail the editors at updateGMO@oup.com to submit updates to your articles, suggest corrections, revisions, or new articles, or send us your current contact information.

Multimedia Links

Several Grove articles now contain links to audio and video recordings and score facsimiles, thanks to partnerships with Alexander Street Press and Naxos Music Library, accessible to users/institutions who have subscriptions to these sites. You can find articles that contain multimedia links by clicking on Advanced Search, entering "multimedia links", and ticking the Bibliographies box. Links to multimedia materials will continue with each new update.
