IAML ONLINE 2020
VIRTUAL MEETINGS AND DISCUSSIONS, 20-24 JULY

The IAML Board invites you to take part in a series of online meetings in the week of 20 July. Timed to coincide with the dates of the postponed IAML Congress in Prague, these sessions will provide an opportunity for members to connect, report on current activities and projects, and discuss issues of professional concern. The meetings will take place using the Zoom platform and will be scheduled to last up to 90 minutes each.

To register for the open meetings and coffee lounges, please send a message to Anders Cato, IAML Secretary General, stating your name and institutional affiliation. There is no need to specify which meetings you wish to attend. The deadline for registration is Friday 17 July. Registered participants will receive Zoom links to all open meetings by Monday 20 July.

Social Hours
There will be social hours every day in the week, but at different times, to make it possible for everyone to join at least one of them. Each social hour stays open for 2 hours, but you are welcome to come and go as you please. When you join, you will randomly be assigned to a room of six to seven people. You will be given co-host status in Zoom, which will allow you to change rooms whenever you want so you can interact with different groups of people.

Regional meetings
To register for the two regional meetings, please follow these special instructions (also given below): for the regional meeting organised by IAML-US on Wednesday 22 July, please email mallory.sajewski@interlochen.org; for the regional meeting organised by IAML-Spain on Thursday 23 July, please email admin@aedom.org.

Libraries in the Time of COVID-19: Open Discussion Forum

Regional meeting organised by IAML-US.

Facilitators: Mallory Sajewski (Head of the Fennell Music Library, Interlochen Center for the Arts) and Liza Vick (Head, Otto E. Albrecht Music Library, University of Pennsylvania)

After months of closure due to the COVID-19 pandemic, many music libraries across the United States are beginning to reopen and educational institutions have begun announcing their plans for fall semester instruction. Music librarians have sprung into action to determine what reopening will look like, from collection access to library spaces to socially distant staff and patrons. This regional IAML-US meeting will consist of a guided discussion in which participants will share ideas and offer support to one another as we navigate the challenges of reopening in these unprecedented times.

To register for this session, please send an email message with your name and institutional affiliation to Mallory Sajewski at mallory.sajewski@interlochen.org.
